Bakersfield City Definitions

“Supportive Housing” means housing with no limit on length of stay, that is occupied by the target population and that is linked to on-site or off-site services that assist the supportive housing resident in retaining the housing, improving his or her health status, and maximizing his or her ability to live and, when possible, work in the community. Supportive housing units are residential uses subject only to those requirements and restrictions that apply to other residential uses of the same type in the same zone. (Ord. 5048 § 2, 2021; Bakersfield Municipal Code Section 17.04.602)

“Transitional Housing” means buildings configured as rental housing, but operating under program requirements that require the termination of assistance and recirculation of the assisted unit to another eligible program recipient at some predetermined future point in time, which shall be no less than six months from the beginning of the assistance. Transitional housing units are residential uses subject only to those requirements and restrictions that apply to other residential uses of the same type in the same zone. (Ord. 5048 § 4, 2021; Bakersfield Municipal Code Section 17.04.602)

“Residential Facility” means any group care or similar facility, licensed by the state of California, for twenty-four hour nonmedical care of persons in need of personal services, supervision, or assistance essential for sustaining the activities of daily living or for the protection of the individual as provided in Section 1502 of the California Health and Safety Code. (Ord. 3964 § 4, 2000; Bakersfield Municipal Code Section 17.04.498)
